

Entertain. Inspire. Celebrate.

First Impressions

Invite your guests to explore Philadelphia's premier cultural gem. Home to our world-renowned, peerless collection, the Museum has hosted inspired events since 1876, when the Centennial Exhibition was held in Fairmount Park, sparking the founding of the city's leading art museum and school. The Museum moved to its present neoclassical main building in 1928 and expanded to include the Perelman Building, Rodin Museum, and Park Houses.

Today, with a remarkable history behind its landmark buildings and notable collection—spanning hundreds of cultures, centuries, and schools of artistic thought—the Museum is one of America's leading destinations for celebrating world-class art. Allow this storied past to enhance your event.

Entertain at the Philadelphia Museum of Art

Extraordinary Experiences

Make great art the centerpiece of your next special occasion. Give a toast from a grand balcony graced by seventeenth-century tapestries, mingle in a garden among Rodin's classic bronzes, or dance the night away in the atrium of an Art Deco building. No matter the affair, the setting will be unforgettable at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Stunning spaces in our main building, the Ruth and Raymond G. Perelman Building, and the Rodin Museum offer an array of options for indoor and garden events of all sizes, from photo shoots to business meetings to formal weddings. STARR Events, the Museum's exclusive caterer, creates custom menus, offering food and drinks that are as spectacular as the setting. Entertaining with us also helps support our programs—all the more reason to celebrate.

Auguste Rodin's iconic sculpture The Thinker welcomes your guests at the entrance of the Rodin Museum and Dorrance H. Hamilton Garden. They will be transported to another world by our collection of more than one hundred bronzes, marbles, and plasters by the French sculptor—one of the largest public collections of Rodin's work outside Paris. Enjoy sculptures spanning the artist's lifetime by hosting a gallery reception, or take the party outdoors to the enchanting garden and reflecting pool. A true hidden oasis in the city, the Rodin Museum is an ideal backdrop for vows, toasts, and other memorable moments.
